This decision was taken at a meeting of Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath on Monday. “The violence that led to the deaths of 10 children in Gorakhpur and Phulpur was unwarranted. We’ve discussed the issue with the CM and decided to treat the deaths as unnatural ones,” an official in the Chief Minister’s office said. The CM had last month made it clear that the state government would treat all violence against children as unnatural. The state government has already begun registering FIRs under the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015. The decision was taken after the state government reviewed the situation following the Babri Masjid demolition and alleged incidents of violence against children. It also came up with a plan of action to address the problem. The state government has taken several steps to provide relief to the parents of the victims. “The government has also announced a compensation of Rs 5 lakh each to the families of children who died in the violence that had started at the Gorakhpur University from August 17 last year and continued till November 18. “The government has also decided to create a foundation that would look after the rehabilitation of the victims. A corpus of Rs 25 lakh has been set up for this purpose,” the official added. The state government also plans to set up helplines in the districts where the violence has taken place. Meanwhile, Congress leader and former UP CM Kumari Capoor on Monday said she was not surprised by the developments as the BJP was following a ‘third option’ to eliminate the Opposition. “I am not surprised. This government is doing everything to eliminate the Opposition. They were defeated in the bypolls but they won’t take this loss lightly. It has never been the BJP’s habit to give up easily. They’ll definitely try to do something in the coming days,” she said. What if you could 'transplant' your own stem cells? That
