Www Youporn com The Bonobino clan has been charged with extortion and two Ravanelli cousins to do the same. The four couples arrested in what law enforcement is calling the "biggest Mafia family takedown" in years, already have pleaded not guilty to charges of extortion. The two Ravanellis and two Bonobinos were arrested Wednesday night and 33 guns were seized, many of them from members of their own family. Also among those arrested were various associates including a correction officer from the state's Department of Corrections. A 14-year-old girl was taken into custody for allegedly keeping a Glock pistol in her closet at her home. New Jersey Attorney General Anne Milgram said the bust was part of the "biggest Mafia family takedown in decades." She said the arrests should send a message to gangsters who think they can do as they please in the state. "It's a wake-up call for them," Milgram said. "We're going to have to be very persistent," she said. "There will have to be a long-term effort in this state to prosecute people werhoe organizations that have terrorized communities for a long, long period of time." Officials said there was a two-year investigation into the alleged crime family, which apparently developed from a bootleg taxi business owned by John "Sonny Black" Chiaravalloti. Last year dead and several firearms violations. But those people weren't members of the same family, only associates including munder, now, the Bonobino clan seems to have stepped up its activity in the region. The U.S. Attorney's Office in Newark made the initial arrests on a federal gun possession charge against 63-year-old Anthony J. Ruggiano, who officials said was a suspect or time groups in antive New Yorker who owned a pizza and catering business in East Newark. Court papers say Ruggiano was involved in 19 murders, including the killing of Guido, during the past decade. Milgram said the Ravanelli and Bonobino families are the two main organized crime groups in
