Samsung MI 1660 V1.01.00.34 Toner Reset

the table shows that these printers must be able to print at least 30,000 pages, and this without replacing the main components. but in order for users to buy new products, or at least go to specialized workshops that are supervised by samsung, the manufacturers of these printers deliberately introduce failures in the design of their products that limit the possibility of their long-term operation. and this is manifested from the fact that the starter cartridge supplied with the printer allows you to print only 700 pages (although the new cartridges from this company provide printing of 1500 pages without refilling), and ending with the operation of the printed page counters, which turn off the cartridge after 3000 pages, and the printer through 5000 pages. at the same time, samsung diligently removes information from its sites that would allow users to operate samsung ml-1661 (1660/1665) printers until the end of the assigned resource. and, not only do they remove this useful information from their sites, they make sure that this information does not appear on the internet, especially on the sites of specialized workshops that cooperate with them. as an example, i suggest taking a look at screenshot 1..
